

Charles & Julie Champlin Brazil

These past several months have been extremely busy and productive. Charles and Samuel have finished the interlinear of the book of Mark and Charles is working diligently to complete the back translation as well. He was able to participate in a Wai Wai Leader's Conference in February and distribute comprehension questions for the book of Mark. The purpose of the comprehension questions is to get a feel for what people are understanding in their reading, the greatest goal being to get people reading the Word of God. Several men commented on how the challenge from the Word had been life-changing for them.

We were able to participate in the mission's annual conference. I (Julie) organized a ladies' tea during our conference week to encourage the women of the mission. The goal was to help develop relationships and share experiences and tips on jungle living, raising children, balancing our personal time with God and the pressures of ministry, among other topics. Several ladies expressed how much the afternoon meant to them.

Charles and Samuel were able to make a visit to the village of Xaari to meet with church leaders about the revision project. Samuel helped explain what the two men have been working on and help the leaders to get a better sense of the seriousness and scholarship of the work being done. Charles scheduled the week of August 12th for a group of leaders to meet together for the purpose of revising the translation of Mark.

The village of Xaari is accessible by road and the guys had been able to get a ride with another missionary headed to the village to give a Bible course. It got more complicated when Charles went to leave. Having rained all night, the dirt road was muddy and slick. Charles ended up getting a ride on a motorcycle to take him to the closest bus station, about 26 kilometers away. He made it with three minutes to spare in catching the bus. He was pretty muddy, but thankful for how the Lord had led and provided.

As we are in Jatapuzinho we would covet your prayers. Charles will continue to work on the Wai Wai Bible revision project and the multi-lingual dictionary. There are many doors open for us to disciple, teach, and encourage while in the village. Please pray for our sensitivity to God's leading, and health and strength to accomplish what He desires.

Thank you for your faithful prayers for us! Your prayers sustained me as I made up well over a hundred beds in two months time, baked many pans of sweet rolls and coffee cakes, cleaned bathrooms, painted, sewed curtains, and pulled weeds. Your prayers upheld Charles and Samuel as they labored day after day on the interlinear and back translation of Mark. God heard. He responded. We served. To God be the glory! Great things HE has done!
