

Tim & Nicole Wilcox – YWAM, Madison, WI

As we prepare for a new season of ministry for our family, we have gotten busy this summer "getting our house in order."

We have also had several doctor's appointments and tests for Chloe. Thank you for praying for her health! She has not had another reactive airway episode since May (hooray!) After several appointments and tests, our last test was conclusive and has given us some insight to what has caused these episodes. We are beginning a treatment plan to help her body get on top of this. Her doctors are hoping that through the next 4 to 6 months of treatment she will be back on track. Please continue to pray for health and recovery for her.

We are hopeful and planning to attend the Leadership Development Course (LDC) in February, depending on Chloe's treatments and recovery. We are thankful for this season in Madison leading up to the LDC to continue to define and develop some new vision for this next season of ministry.

This fall we will continue our process of preparation and vision development. We are also excited to plug in to a few fall quarter programs happening at YWAM Madison as we explore and cultivate the vision growing in our hearts.

We are hoping to staff the Urban Practicum which is an urban ministry development course and internship. Nicole will be co-leading and teaching in the Bible Hour program for our fall Discipleship Training Program (DTS) for 23 students, as well as pursuing a master's certificate in Social Justice. And, of course, we will be continuing with doctor appointments and treatments for Chloe.

It is an exciting season! We are thankful for God's leading, timing, and mercy to our family and are anticipating great things ahead!

We look forward to sharing stories of what God is up to during this fall quarter!

With Love,
Tim, Nicole & Chloe
