

Shepherds College – Union Grove, WI

Explanation of Key Contributors Initiative

Beginning in 2019 Shepherds College implemented a new staff appreciation initiative called Key Contributors which is based on our 8 Key Behaviors – Model Christ-Likeness, Be Creative, Pursue Excellence, Maximize Strengths, Promote Professionalism, Work Together, Embrace Accountability, and Experience Gratitude. Throughout the year we're asking our staff to nominate their co-workers whenever they witness someone exhibiting one or more of our Key Behaviors here at Shepherds College. Each quarter our Leadership team reviews all of the nominations and votes for the employees whom they feel should be recognized as a Key Contributor of Shepherds College. Those who are selected as Key Contributors are recognized in multiple ways. One of the ways we like to recognize these individuals is by having the nominator summarize the reason(s) why he/she nominated the employee as a Key Contributor.

Key Contributor Summary

Employee: Lauren Wildhagen

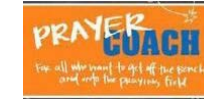

Lauren is a team player; she works great with others to develop her Bible class curriculum and implements what has been discussed. She models excellence in her approach to the Bible class and student life. Lauren has taken what has been given to her and develops it to meet the students' needs. She also successfully launched Lamb Hall with little direction. Lauren pursues excellence, models Christ-likeness, demonstrates creativity, is grateful, responds to feedback and uses feedback for continuous improvement.
