

Ryan & Deb Wyss

HR Certification

Thanks to each of you who prayed for Ryan as he walked into the testing center on December 20th to take his proctored certification test. He Passed! It was a tense 3 hours as he answered 175 multiple choice questions and wasn't sure how well he was doing... but what an encouraging way to end 2018!

Interim Mobilization Role

Praise God that He continues to raise up people to serve him around the world! All seven new missionary applications that were presented for review in December were approved. Each new appointee now enters a focused season of preparation and partnership development as they gear up to serve in Japan, Ireland, Italy, and Germany. Please pray for them that God will grow, guide, and provide for them along this step of the journey.

Annual performance reviews are the task at hand as Ryan continues to fill the Interim Director of Mobilization role. Each supervisor will schedule conversations with those that they are leading to reflect on the past year and set new goals. Please pray that these conversations will lead to healthy accountability and further growth for each mobilizer.

Special Needs Connections ~ Coffin-Siris

In honor of Coffin-Siris Syndrome awareness month, Deb wrote a post about our daughter Elena for the Coffin-Siris Syndrome Foundation. If you're interested in reading a short reflection of our journey into the world of special needs, I think you'll enjoy this post.

In January, Deb spearheaded the first ever gathering of Minnesota families affected by Coffin-Siris Syndrome. We met informally for a few hours and now look forward to getting to know the other 8 families in attendance.

Praise for:

- New missionaries who were appointed in December
- Some improvement with Elena's stomach issues after removing dairy from her diet again
- Ryan's passing mark on the HR exam

Pray for:

- Missionaries in preparation for service around the world
- Upcoming annual reviews
- Deepening connections with other special needs families
