Missionaries Devin & Shannon Long, National School Project

Can you believe Thanksgiving is over and it's already the Christmas season? The days are coming and going, but they've been filled with some amazing ministry opportunities and stories of God's faithfulness. God is doing so much good work right now through the National School Project, and we're so grateful for your part in making it all happen.

One of Devin's main goals this semester has been to get the word out and partner with more youth pastors in our expansion areas. This October, Devin and our Tucson staff couple hosted two youth pastor conferences in Phoenix and Tucson, Arizona, back-to-back. 30 church leaders came together to learn more about working together with other churches to make campus ministry a central part of their youth groups. It was amazing to see pastors representing 74 schools at these conferences, all focused on one thing: "let's train and equip our students to share the gospel."

Meanwhile, Shannon and the Marketing Team have been working hard at making our coaching available anywhere in the United States, regardless of where our staff is located. Through social media ads and the help of other staff, we've seen many students start working to reach their schools around the nation. Recently, Shannon was encouraged by one student named Landon who found out about us through an ad on social media. Not only did he submit an impressive application and get accepted as a Meant for More Leader, but as he was reading his new training guide, he asked Devin (who is now coaching him) about our upcoming Student Leader Conference which is advertised in our training guide. This was an incredibly rewarding story to hear for Shannon as this student found out about us through marketing, and is now on track to dive deeper into his involvement because of the marketing efforts made in our Student Leader Guide. Pray for the marketing efforts of our ministry, that the Lord would open many new opportunities through them!

We've just purchased our first home and we got the keys last week - a Thanksgiving miracle! We're so excited and incredibly grateful for this big step. Shannon is already decorating and making the place feel like home and Devin is becoming quite the handyman! We prayed daily for this home, and now it's here and better than we ever imagined. The Lord provides.

Prayer Requests:

- * Pray to be coaching students at 6 more schools in Arizona, and 3 more schools in the Sacramento area this school year.
- * Pray for staff to be raised up to help us reach the Phoenix area and also staff to strengthen our Marketing Team!
- * Pray for us to be walking in the Spirit through all of this and to stay dependent on the Lord.
- * Pray for the ad campaign running nationally for students to sign up for training to reach their school with the gospel. Pray for the right students to see the ads, and pray for both of us as we oversee this project.
- * Pray for Christmas outreaches being planned for December at some of the schools National School Project is coaching.

As always, thank you all so much for your support, prayers, and kindness to us!
